OTHER NEWS OFF THE WIRE

Gr.ville, Miss., Feb. 1.—Hollandale, a town on the Yazoo and Mississippi, was entirely destroyed by fire with the exception of two buildings. STATE HEALTH BOARD.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1.—Gov. Beckham at noon sent to the senate for confirmation the appointment of Dr. Joseph Mathews, of Louisville, and Dr. W. A. Quinn, of Henderson, members of the state board of health. Dr. Mathews succeeds himself, and Dr. Quinn succeeds Dr. J. T. Fuller, of Mayfield.

BIG MAN DEAD.

Bowling Green, Feb. 1.—Robert T. Garvin, 78 years old, died at his home, near the city last night after a brief illness from pneumonia. He was the tallest and largest man in the county, measuring 6 feet 7 inches and was large in proportion. His son Virgil Garvin, is county clerk.

NO ARRESTS YET.

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 1.—There seems to be a clash at present between detectives and the city authorities. Every day having been exhausted and every theory exploded the detectives are now working, they claim, on evidence which will fix the crime on one of two prominent society men. The city authorities say there is nothing in the charge and that no arrests will be made. Names are freely spoken, but no arrests have been made yet. The murder of Miss Schafer seems no nearer a solution now than ten days ago, when it took place.

SUES FOR BREACH OF PROMISE.

New York, Feb. 1.—Senarah Madden, a well known actress, has filed suit against Peter Duryea, partner of D. Stokes, the Lexington, Ky., race horse man, for $50,000 damages for alleged breach of promise. The defendant's attorneys say it is only a scheme to extort money from him.

CAN'T WRITE A BOOK.

London, Eng., Feb. 1.—The Daily Mail says that Mrs. Maybrick is now in Liverpool and that the conditions of her release are that she will not write a book, go on the stage or in anyway attract public notice.

BURNED TO DEATH IN JAIL.

Dawson, Ky., Feb. 1.—Vernon Egbert, of Dalton, Ky., was burned to death in the jail at this place. Saturday night he and another man became intoxicated. His companion left Egbert lying in the street, where he was found about midnight by Night Policeman Arch Ligon. Ligon fearing he would freeze to death, took him to the lockup and made a fire in the stove to keep him from freezing. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of accidental burning, through negligence of the victim.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Supt. Leib Has Completed His First Month.

Tomorrow Night He Will Make a Report—Revision of Rules Probable.

ONE REVISION BADLY NEEDED

With Saturday Prof. C. M. Leib, superintendent of the Paducah public schools, closed the first month of his incumbency, and will furnish a brief report to the Board of Education tomorrow night reviewing the work he has done and outlining the work he intends to do this spring. He will make but few suggestions as to improvements.

"This week I will meet with the teachers and we will re-classify," Prof. Leib stated. "In some instances where the primary grades are so large that two teachers are required to teach the little children, the classification is very bad, and some teachers are doing exactly the same work, wasting much time and energy and accomplishing about half as much as might be accomplished under different arrangements."

"For instance, take Miss Willis' room in the High school building. She and Mrs. Rieke teach the first grade which was necessarily divided on account of the large number of pupils. Some of these pupils are advanced further than the others and must be pushed ahead. I will take the advanced pupils, whom we will find by the grading we reviewed last week, and place them in the A division. The pupils who cannot do the advanced work will be placed in the second, or B division. If the latter class pupils can do better work than we thought, or rather show improvement, then they will be promoted to the A class and stay at that once."

"We will require several weeks to finish the re-classification but hope to straighten out the rooms before the expiration of the month. I intend to place Miss Willis in charge of one division and Mrs. Rieke in charge of the other, and will also make similar arrangements at other schools where the primary grades are over run and little system is used."

Prof. Leib has further observed that the teachers have not agreed on a limit for work, and will this week arrange a limit. He will outline the work of each grade and class and will allow the pupils to go so far each month, allowing for reviews, etc. The entire year's course will be so arranged that the pupils are taken thoroughly through the course little by little, and when they have finished will be thoroughly acquainted with the work completed.

Prof. Leib and the teachers last week completed the canvass of grade work and have only to meet and agree on what pupils be placed in the A and B divisions, and the next few weeks will be consumed in carefully watching the work of the pupils and deciding on promotions and demotions. This will be done immediately, before the term has well gotten under way. The board tomorrow night will no doubt take steps to secure revision of the rules and regulations, which has not been done since 1899.

KILLED SON-IN-LAW.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 1.—Lynn Denison was shot and killed last night by his father-in-law, John Fister. Denison and his wife separated, and she went to live with her father. The old man had forbidden Denison to come to see her, and the latter had been forcing himself into the house. When he arrived last night the old man met him and Denison seized him by the throat and was choking him when Fister drew a pistol and fired. Fister was arrested this morning and exonerated by the coroner's jury.

Mr. Frank Bush, of Smithland, was in the city today en route to Louisville.

A HUNDRED WATCHES TO BE GIVEN THE BOYS

The Sun has purchased a hundred watches from Mr. J. L. Wolff, the well known jeweler and will offer them to the boys of Paducah.

These watches are "dandies." They are watches Mr. Wolff has been selling for $1.75 and are most excellent time pieces. The Sun appreciates the longing the average boy has to possess a watch and intends to help him get one.

Here is the plan: The Sun will give one of these watches to the boy who gets 10 monthly subscribers, or 4 six months subscribers, or 2 one year subscribers.

The subscribers must be people who are not now taking the Sun and must be paid in advance.

The price of The Sun is 40c a month, $2.25 for six months and $4.50 for one year.

This is the best offer ever made the boys of Paducah to work for a newspaper and there are a host of them out already.

One young fellow, Aubrey Meacham, the son of Mr. D. A. Meacham of The Sun, when he heard of the offer went to work and has already turned in his subscriptions and received his watch. He is the proudest boy in Paducah today and has every reason for being so. He is only eight years old but the tact and energy he put into his work and the despatch with which he did it, stamps him as a boy with the proper stuff in him.

Every boy in Paducah can get one of these watches if he will get out and work. Only a few hours in the afternoon after school will do it as soliciting for The Sun, Paducah's most popular paper, is easy.

Get at it boys and get a watch. Walk down to Mr. Wolff's and see the display in his window.]

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

L. K. Oliver Takes Laudanum in Marshall County.

He Was Despondent Over the Death of His Wife Last Friday.

HE LEAVES TWO BROTHERS

Mr. L. K. Oliver, of Lowry, a post-office seven miles this side of Benton, Marshall county, took two ounces of laudanum Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock and died of the effects about 8:30 that evening.

The deceased was a brother of Attorney George Oliver of the city, who went to Lowry Saturday night to attend the bedside of his brother, also of Attorney Mike Oliver, of Benton.

Attorney George Oliver returned this morning and stated it is the supposition that he took the drug with suicidal intent, his wife having died the day before, leaving him very despondent.

The deceased was 31 years of age and the son of J. N. Oliver, of Lowry. He leaves a father, mother, two brothers, Messrs. George and Mike Oliver and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Feezor, and four children ranging from 4 to 8 years. The remains were buried yesterday afternoon.

STOPPED BY ICE.

RELATIVES HAVE BEEN TRYING FOR A WEEK TO GET COFFIN.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 1.—John Stewart, a farmhand living in Fox Island, in the Wabash river, below New Harmony, died of the measles Saturday and relatives crossed the river and went to New Harmony to buy a casket, and when they were ready to return there was so much heavy ice in the stream that they could not make it. The corpse has not been buried yet, and there is no prospect of the Wabash river being free of ice for several days to come. There are about 100 people living on the island, which is a mile long. Relatives and friends sit up nightly with the corpse and are waiting for the ice to run out. The ice in the Wabash river is the heaviest known in recent years.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The regular meeting of the city council will take place this evening at the city hall, with the usual amount of business on hand. It is the first meeting in the month, and these are always the longest.

Mr. H. W. Katterjohn went to Cincinnati today at noon to attend the bricklayers' convention.

IS GOOD NEWS

Hours of I. C. Machinists and Woodworkers Increased.

The Good News Was Given Out to the Workmen Today.

TIME TO BE INCREASED

The machinists and woodworkers in the employ of the local I. C. shops were agreeably surprised this morning when they reported at the check window for the time checks, to learn that the hours in the woodworking department had been increased and an order sent out for an addition to the working forces in the machine department of the shops.

The woodworkers have been working eight hours a day but the order increases the working day to nine hours, and with the coming of longer days, another increase in hours will be made. The regular work day in the summer time is ten hours and on account of the great amount of work on hand the officials will not be slow in reaching the time limit.

The increase in the mechanical department could not be satisfied here, and the road had to send out of town to secure machinists. When the cut in forces was made at the beginning of winter, the men all left the city to procure work elsewhere and only those who could secure work here at foundries and machine shops remained. An addition of fifteen machinists was ordered.

The working day in the machine shops is eight hours, like the other departments, but some machinists work ten hours on account of the accumulated work. The regular work day will be increased to ten hours when the days increase in length, and a nine hour order is expected in this department this week.

The laborers in the shop yards, especially the car repairers who have to work on the jacking track, experience much suffering from the cold, and this morning had several big fires built in the yards where they would go to get warm from time to time.

Cars are run in on the jacking track, lifted up by hydraulic jacks which often freeze over night and have to be thawed out before they can be used, and the car repairers then crawl under the cars and begin work. It requires little time to chill them to the bone, and here is where the fire comes in handy. The amount of work is decreased by the cold weather but the cars have to be repaired and the car "monkeys" have to work despite the severe weather.

Last night the fast flying passenger train No. 103 and 104 came in on time for the first time in many weeks. The freight traffic and weather had delayed these trains and the resumption of regular schedule came as a surprise to the traveling public.

The dispatchers and division officers have gotten a move on themselves of late and are cleaning up the division of all accumulated freight, moving it away as fast as it is brought on for shipment. Chief Train Dispatcher North has been devoting his entire attention to cleaning up the Louisville and south end divisions and has accomplished a great deal in this work.

This morning Superintendent W. J. Hills, of the N. C. and St. L. road, and several other division officers left in a special car over the road on an inspection trip extending to Memphis. The train left here this morning at 7:30 and will be out two days, probably. This is the first special inspection train over that road in some time.

Mr. U. H. Clark, chief clerk to Master Mechanic T. F. Barton, has returned from Louisville where he had gone on a short visit to relatives. Mr. John Dugger had been acting as chief clerk in his absence.

Miss Adah Enders has returned from visiting in Arkansas.

ICE GETS HEAVY

Immense Floes Are Now Passing by Paducah.

There Is Considerable Wreckage in the Mass—Little Damage Here.

SPRAGUE NOT INJURED MUCH

The ice has been running heavier to day and yesterday than this winter, and owing to the cold weather there is no way to prophesy when the situation will improve.

The ice is now so heavy that it flows into the Tennessee river through the "chute" above the city, and comes past Paducah in the Tennessee river, something not seen here for 12 or 13 years, according to river men. The ice appears to be floating out of the Tennessee, but simply crosses over from the Ohio up at the chute and comes down past Mechanicsburg. Today, on account of the wind, the ice has been mostly on this side of the river, and almost within reach of persons standing on the wharfbank. Usually it seldom gets nearer than the line of the Tennessee river.

All day yesterday the ice crunched and roared and rushed past. With it was much wreckage, and several barges and wrecked hulls of boats. It was impossible to tell just what was being carried down in the mass of ice and drift. No boat could live in the river and no effort was made here to catch any of the fugitive barges and boats.

Down at Joppa the tie boats and barges were reported in great danger. Two of the Lyda's big empties broke loose from the force of the floes and floated away, but were caught at Cairo without having been damaged.

At Brookport the full force of the ice is felt. It piles up high and solid, and the Illinois Central transfer boat cannot land. There has been considerable delay to the mails and St. Louis papers for several days, often a delay of 12 hours or more.

The damage to the Sprague and Cruiser which left Paducah several days ago, was not so bad as reported in Saturday's dispatches.

The Cruiser and Sprague, escaped from the ice with slight damage but fought desperately in the ice for hours to rescue several barges of coal which were going down the river in the great fields of ice passing. Three barges were landed opposite Evansville and one at a point below. If they can be held to resist further assault of the ice the owners will be saved a large amount of money. Three barges got away. Many others are coming. The barges are part of the Pumpkin Patch fleet of 61 pieces which broke loose a few days ago near Louisville. Some have been destroyed by the ice, while the majority are still coming down the river. They are said to be strung out for miles.

Saturday at Louisville the towboat Bellevue, valued at $12,000, was crushed in the ice and the crew of nineteen had a close call for their lives.

FATAL TYPHOID.

BECOMES ALMOST EPIDEMIC IN COLUMBUS, O.

Columbus, O., Feb. 1.—Since January 1, 723 cases of typhoid fever have been reported in Columbus and there have been twenty-three deaths. Eighty-one new cases were reported today, the highest daily record for the month. The health authorities are making strenuous efforts to stay the epidemic.

Mayor Jeffry tonight, after a conference with a committee from the Board of Trade, appointed a commission to investigate the causes of the epidemic and to recommend measures to prevent a recurrence.

Miss Frances Terrell has returned from attending school in New York.

find a troublesome collection of phlegm which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity

WANT POST OFFICE RESTORED.

The post office at Clear Springs, Graves county, has been discontinued, and some of the residents of the section are loudly complaining. It is not believed it will be restored, however, as the government is very good about establishing offices where they are needed, and never goes to the trouble to abolish one unless there is ample cause for it.

then different ointments and lini-

Trigg County Farmer Found Dead in the Woods Near His Home.

OTHER STATE HAPPENINGS

Marion, Ky., Feb. 1.—News has reached here of the trouble of Major Reed, formerly a well known young man of Crittenden county. He shot and killed his father-in-law at Durant, I. T., and is in jail, having been denied bail. He moved west some time ago, and family troubles are said to have caused the tragedy.

FOUND DEAD IN WOODS.

Cadiz, Ky., Feb. 1.—Martin D.
Hutchison, an old gentleman living four miles west of here, was found dead from heart disease in the woods near his home, where he had gone to cut wood. He was a Confederate sol-

Fifth Tennessee, and fought through the entire war. He was wounded several times. He also helped build Fort Donaldson.

TOO COLD TO MOVE

MARKETER FINDS ONE OF HIS BLACK HENS CAME TO TOWN WITH HIM.

Mr. Ed Dufot, the well known gardener, had been in town some time this morning when he found that although he thought he had come to the city alone, he had in reality had company. He had driven to the market house, unhitched his horse and had it taken to the stable. Daylight began to dawn and he saw on the fifth wheel of his wagon, or the little round part supporting that portion of the bed under the seat, a black fluffy looking ball.

He immediately made an investigation and ascertained from a few sleepy crows that it was his old black hen, which undoubtedly went to roost on the wagon last night and decided it was too cold to get off when Mr. Du-fot started to town this morning. The fowl is evidently a good acrobat to hold on despite the jolts and jerks, all the way to the city.

Mr. Dufot placed the hen in a sack and said he wouldn't sell her now for any amount. Either she is a very daring creature, or else sleeps pretty soundly.

Lieut. Clarence Landrum, of Smith-land, Ky., who is on one of the U.
S. battleships, yesterday telegraphed to his father, Mr. George Landrum, at Smithland. The message was first received in Paducah and transferred to Smithland by telephone. It is the first wire ever received here from Panama.

Lieut. Landrum was appointed to Annapolis by Congressman John K.
Hendrick, and has been all over the world. He is well known in Paducah, and his many friends will be glad to know that he is well.

IT IS A HOODOO

Few Deputy Wardens at Eddy-ville Escape Misfortune.

The Present Deputy Seems to Have Escaped and Is Well Liked.

"The position of Deputy Warden of the Kentucky branch penitentiary has come to be regarded as a fateful, and, in fact, little short of a 'hoodoo,' " according to an Eddyville dispatch to the Louisville Times, whose informant adds, "and I can recall but one man who has served as deputy at the institution who did not encounter some ill luck during his incumbency, or shortly after quitting the place."

Henry Taylor, who served as deputy under Warden Smith, was particularly unfortunate. While serving as fenceman, his son, a most promising boy, accidentally shot and killed himself. Some weeks later another son died of fever; the mother-in-law of the official died soon after, and, as a final mishap, his house and all its contents was destroyed by fire.

Sam Nunn, deputy under ex-Warden Curry, was killed at Marion soon after leaving the penitentiary. Ward Lynn, who succeeded Nunn, was stricken with typhoid fever and died after vacating the office.

Other fatalities of a lesser nature have followed the footsteps of those who have held the position, but the present official, Jesse Olive, appears to have broken the spell and escapes the many misfortunes which have come to his predecessors. He administers the onerous duties entailed by the position with painstaking accuracy and is greatly respected by both subordinate officials and inmates of the institution.

ROBBED SLEEPERS

DEFT-FINGERED THIEF MAKES
A GOOD HAUL ON I. C.
TRAIN.

Illinois Central detectives are at work on a reported robbery on a fast passenger train from New Orleans to Chicago, near Ripley, Tenn., Saturday. According to passengers, several on board were relieved of money and valuables some time during the night below Memphis by a sneak thief. Three sleepers were ransacked and the miscreant was so clever in his work that the discovery was not made until the train left Memphis and the passengers who had been "touched" were not aware of the fact until they went in to breakfast. J. J. Jobst, of Peoria, Ill., was relieved of a gold locket valued at $40, which had "J.
J., 1887" engraved on it and a pocketbook containing $70 in money.
He occupied a berth in the "Weewau-ken" Pullman. In the "Tyronne" C.
T. Seafie of Chicago fell victim to the loss of $65. In the "Italy" E. E.
Clark of Memphis, was short a gold ring worth $25, and E. T. Bennett also of Memphis, lost a small gold chain and Waltham watch, which he valued at $50. The officials in charge of the train were at a loss to know how the thief got in his work so successfully without arousing suspicion or being detected. The proper officials of the road have been notified and every effort will be made to apprehend the smooth-handed artist.

NEW PACKETS

THEY WILL RUN FROM LOUIS-VILLE TO ST. LOUIS.

The Memphis, New Orleans and Cincinnati Packet company of Cincinnati, is considering the question of running two boats a week, the Cincin-

Louisville with the steamers for Cin-port for two of the finest packets on the Ohio river.

IMPERFECT DIGESTION.

Means less nutrition and in consequence less vitality. When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with bilious properties, the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. Herbine will rectify this; it gives tone to the stomach, liver and kidneys, strengthens the appetite, clears and improves the complexion, infuses new life and vigor to the whole system. 50 cents a bottle.
Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

The session of the British Parliament which will begin February 2 will be one of interest and importance.
Since the adjournment in June last there has been a change of Cabinet and party lines have been so altered that there will be seven distinct factions in the House of Commons.

WINTER IS COMING BRINGING CATARRH

Every Catarrh sufferer dreads the coming of winter, for with the first breath of the "ice-king" this miserable disease is fanned into life and all the disgusting symptoms return. The nostrils are stopped up and the throat can be kept clear of mucous secretions only by continual hawking and spitting. Catarrh is a nuisance and source of annoyance, not only to the one who has it, but everybody else. The thick, yellow discharge from the head produces a feeling of personal defilement, and the odor of the breath is almost intolerable.

The catarrhal poison brings on stomach troubles and affects the Kidneys and Bladder. It attacks the soft bones and tissues of the head and throat, causing total or partial deafness, the loss of smell, and giving to the voice a rasping, nasal twang. No part of the body is secure from its ravages. Catarrh makes you sick all over, for it is a disease of the blood, and circulates all through the system, and for this reason, sprays, washes, inhalers, powders and salves have proven failures.

The way to cure Catarrh thoroughly and permanently is to cleanse the blood of the unhealthy secretions that keep the membranes of the body inflamed, and nothing does this so surely and promptly as S. S. S. As long as the blood is poisoned with Catarrhal matter the discharge of mucus and other disgusting symptoms of the miserable disease will continue. S. S. S. goes to the fountain head of the trouble and purifies and cleans the blood, and so invigorates and tones the system that catching cold and contracting Catarrh is not so likely to again keep the blood in order and without bringing none of the discomforts of Catarrh.

Write us particulars of your case and let our physicians help you get the blood-tainting and stubborn disease. We make no charge for medical advice.

A ship wrecked off the coast of Greece had on board a large Ape, kept for the diversion of the sailors. The ship went down, and the Ape, with most of the crew, was left struggling in the water. Dolphins are said to have a great friendship for man, and one came under him and, supporting him on his back, swam with him to the mouth of Piraeus (a harbor in Greece so-called). "In what part of Greece do you live?" demanded the Dolphin. "I am an Athenian," said the Ape. "Oh! then you know Piraeus, of course?" said the Dolphin. "Know Piraeus!" cried the Ape, not wishing to appear ignorant to the Dolphin: "I should rather think I did. Why, my father and he are first cousins." Thereupon the Dolphin, finding that he was supporting an impostor, slipped from beneath his legs and left him to his fate.

THE DRUG CLERKS

OBJECT TO A BILL NOW IN THE LEGISLATURE.

The drug clerks of Kentucky will present a memorial to the legislature asking the members to defeat the passage of house bill No. 296.

The bill provides that the state board of pharmacy shall grant certificates to persons holding them from other states. It has been favorably reported upon by the committee in charge and is now before the legislature. At present the clerks are said to have a sort of "trust."

Who is behind the bill is not known, but local drug clerks claim that it is being pushed by the retail druggists with a view to obtaining cheaper service.

The pharmacy law of Kentucky is said to require a higher standard of proficiency than that of any state in the union. The law has resulted in the enforced employment of high class men, and the salaries of the clerks have risen in proportion. The number of licensed clerks in the state is now barely sufficient to fill the demand.

Hundreds of drug clerks licensed in states with a low standard are out of employment, and would flock to Kentucky to secure positions if the bill now pending passes.

WELL, WHO TOLD YOU?

All this talk about Wheeler Campbell becoming a candidate for congress any time soon is a joke. He is a bright young man, but he has just been elected to the state senate for two years and is doubtless satisfied with it at present, besides Congressman Ollie M. James is making a good congressman, and is liable to remain in congress for many years.—Mayfield Messenger.

DAILY THOUGHT.

"One of the worst of faults is lack of frankness in admitting a fault."

THE WEATHER.

Fair and continued cold tonight.
Tuesday increasing cloudiness and warmer.

If the ground hog should fail to see his shadow tomorrow and decide winter is over, he will in all probability not only lose his reputation as a prophet but will freeze to death besides.

Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, formerly commander in chief of the British army, says that the American army is the finest in the world. He is right.
And there is no nation that has a better reason for knowing it than England.

The addition of a penalty for failing to pay city license by the end of January seems to have greatly aided the collection of the licenses, as about $21,000 was taken in up to Saturday night, against $13,000 collected for the same period last year. Today the 10 per cent penalty became effective.

The bill introduced in the legislature by the gentlemen from Pike county is rather an anomaly. It provides that a man may carry a pistol concealed for a whole year by paying $5 to the county clerk, but if he carries it concealed one time without paying the $5 he shall be sentenced to from one to five years in the penitentiary.
It is safe to venture that with "pistol totin'" so cheap, no one in Kentucky would ever go to the penitentiary for carrying one.

Consistency does not seem to be among the jewels of a writer in a local contemporary who criticizes Paducah people for their so-called pessimism, and then winds up with the following pessimistic view of his own:
"Paducah has outgrown herself in the past decade, and in consequence needs these things at once; her system of sewerage is inadequate; her streets are in bad condition; her school system needs remodeling, and her city government must be studied by statesmen, rather than by selfish politicians." This may all be true, but why look at it that way when there is a brighter side? The gentleman is mainly right in his remarks regarding pessimists, providing everyone is a pessimist that he regards as a pessimist, which, however, is not likely. The man who looks on the dark side of things, like the man who looks on the bright, sees but one side. The man who comes nearer getting at the facts about anything is one who takes a look at both sides and is not to be influenced by either optimism or pessimism. The optimist believes in letting things alone as they are, and the pessimist thinks we might as well.

COLUMBIA

CALL A PASTOR

Rev. E. L. Kuenzler, of Ohio,
New Evangelical Minister.

Memorial Service at Grace Episcopal church Yesterday—The Baptist Revival.

NOTES OF CHURCH INTEREST

Rev. E. L. Kuenzler, of South Webster, Ohio, who preached here yesterday both morning and evening at the German Evangelical church on South Fifth street, was this morning by the congregation called here as pastor, and has accepted. He will succeed Rev. B. F. Wulfman, who will preach his farewell sermon here February 14th.

Rev. Kuenzler made a fine impression on the congregation yesterday. He is a young single man, 28 years old, and will come to Paducah after Easter.

Rev. Wulfman goes to Springfield, Ohio, to take charge of the church there.

Rev. George O. Bachman delivered his first picture sermon at the First C. P. church last night to a large audience. The theme was "Sowing the Seed—What Shall the Harvest Be?" This theme was forcefully presented in sermon and song.

Mrs. C. H. Sherrill sang two solo parts and the audience joined in singing well known hymns which were thrown on the screen. Mr. Bachman will preach a picture sermon monthly and during March, April and May will give a monthly lecture illustrating his travels. These lectures will be given during the week.

The services at the First Baptist church yesterday were marked by an unabated interest. The evangelist, Mr. Ham, of Bowling Green preached three times to large crowds. There were fifteen additions to the church yesterday. The meeting will continue part of the week.

"Congregation Day" was observed yesterday morning at the Broadway Methodist church, and was well attended despite the inclement day. The pastor, Rev. T. J. Newell, preached a strong sermon on the unity of the church as a family.

The memorial sermon to Bishop T. U. Dudley, was preached yesterday morning at Grace Episcopal church by the rector, Rev. John W. Sykes. Mr. Sykes is an eloquent speaker and his tribute to the great man was a fine effort.

The revival services will begin at the First C. P. church on Wednesday night.

ONE REPLY

Lexington Wants to Know What We Desire Changed.

Reply Will Be Made at Once and a Conference Probably Arranged.

City Solicitor Ed H. Paryear has received a reply from one of the three second class cities written in regard to a conference having for its object an agreement on changes in the constitution desired.

Lexington, Covington and Newport were written and Lexington this morning replied, asking what changes were desired. When this is explained, according to the letter Solicitor Paryear received, Lexington will probably be willing to send delegates to a conference of second class cities.

Solicitor Paryear expects other replies any time. As the local boards have not fully decided on what they want, however, the solicitor may not for several days be able to reply to Lexington's request.

THE RESULT OF LAST NIGHT'S VOTE WILL BE FOUND IN ANOTHER COLUMN OF THIS PAPER.

MORE COLD

There was another sudden drop in temperature last night, and the lowest reached was 10 degrees above zero. Today has been cloudy with threatened snow, but there has been a decided moderation.

While January has been unusual in some respects, according to many of the older inhabitants, in precipitation and average temperature there has been little difference in it and other Januarys, according to Government Observer Bornemann. Some of the older citizens say that this winter is almost exactly similar to that of 1878.

Two years ago Paducah was suffering from the memorable sleet storm, which did great damage in this section and for several days almost suspended business in Paducah.

Theatrical Notes.

Tim Murphy will present his new play, "The Man From Missouri," at The Kentucky on Wednesday, February 3. It is the joint work of E. E. Rose and George V. Hobart, two writers well known to every one who knows anything at all about who are the practical and successful writers for the stage today. The scenes of "The Man From Missouri" are laid in and about the national capital and there are four beautiful settings in the handsome production with which Mr. Murphy has invested the work. The large number of ladies in the cast, which is an exceptionally long one, gives an opportunity for handsome dressing and millinery which has been made the most of.

Harry West, the Chicago actor who shot and killed John C. Walsh at Ottawa, Ill., last December 13, has been given 20 years in the penitentiary. It is remarkable how few actors and actresses are ever arrested, especially for felonies. It is probable that less actors are sent to the penitentiary than any other class of men.

Manager J. E. English today booked Mr. True S. James in "The Old Melody." Mrs. James is in the company, and will be warmly welcomed here, being a sister of Mrs. George Powell, and a society favorite in Evansville, her former home.

Manager English will this evening have one of the largest houses of the season at the Kentucky to see the Howard-Dorset company. The second week of this popular company promises to be larger than the first.

"The Chaperones" will be at the Kentucky Feb. 20th with one of the biggest troupes seen this season.

VARIABLE ROUTES TO FLORIDA.

In addition to the numerous facilities provided for the comfort and pleasure of Florida travelers, the Southern Railway and Queen & Crescent Route have this year added a new and unusually attractive feature in the form of a variable route-tourist ticket, by means of which, at a slight additional expense, the going trip may be made via Chattanooga, Atlanta and Macon and the return trip via Savannah, Columbia, Asheville, Hot Springs and Knoxville—or vice versa—including stop off, if desired, at all of these and other points, so that a passenger may visit Lookout Mountain, the beautiful "Sapphire Country," the "Land of the Sky" and the principle commercial centers and tourist resorts en route.

The "Chicago and Florida Special" a superb train composed of through Pullman Drawing Room sleepers, composite car and dining car, leaves Cincinnati every evening except Sunday, via the Queen & Crescent Route. A handsome observation sleeper leaving Louisville at 7:25 p. m., is attached to the "Special" at Lexington and this train then runs through solid via Southern railway from Chattanooga to Jacksonville and St. Augustine, arriving at 9:30 p. m. and 10:35 p. m., respectively the next evening, making connection at Jacksonville for interior Florida points.

The "Florida Limited" leaves Cincinnati every morning the year around via the Queen & Crescent Route connecting at Lexington with the Southern railway trains from Louisville. This train also runs through solid to Jacksonville and St. Augustine via Southern Railway from Chattanooga carrying sleeping cars, observation and dining car, arriving at 9:45 a. m. and 11:15 a. m., respectively.

The Q. & C. "Special" leaving Cincinnati every evening carries Pullman sleeper through to Jacksonville via Southern railway from Harrison Jct. through Asheville, the "Land of the Sky" and Savannah. This train also connects at Lexington with train from Louisville.

There is of course corresponding fine service via each of these routes on the return trip. Either of the following booklets will be sent on receipt of two cent stamp "Land of the Sky," "Winter Homes, containing hotel list," "Hunting and Fishing in the South," containing game laws, Cuba folder, etc.

Complete information as to rates, schedules, etc., will be gladly furnished on application to C. H. Hangerford, D. P. A. Southern railway, 234 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky.

The President told former Congressman Irwin that he would take up the vacancy in the Kentucky pension agency in a short time.

AN AGED RESIDENT

Death Saturday Night of Capt. John Segenfelter Here.

Lee Murray Dies After a Brief Illness—Burial of Mrs. Allen Wednesday.

SEVERAL OTHER DEATHS

Mr. John Segenfelter, one of Paducah's pioneer citizens, died Saturday night at 8:55 o'clock at his room at the Palmer house, from paralysis following the infirmities of old age. He had been in feeble health for the past several years, retiring as a member of the council some years ago and declining to run again because of his failing health.

Up to eight weeks ago he had managed to get about, but was very weak, and had become almost blind. Eight weeks ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and it was evident that the end was near.

He had been gradually sinking for several days when death came to him Saturday night.

Mr. Segenfelter was born in Saxony, Germany, August 31, 1835 and when 11 years old came to America with his cousin, the late Fred Hess, who died a few days ago. They resided for a short time in Baltimore and later at New Orleans, but two years after their arrival, in 1858, came to Paducah and had resided here since.

From then until the day of his death he was a substantial business man. He saw Paducah expand from a mere village to one of the most important cities on the Ohio river, and gave to its upbuilding and progress all of his busy life that he could spare. He was engaged in the hotel and restaurant business for some time, and did good work in the council, being a member for several years. He declined to stand for re-election about eight years ago on account of his failing eyesight and enfeebled condition.

Mr. Segenfelter in 1867 married Miss Belle Winchester of Paducah, who died in 1880. He leaves two children, Mrs. Elizabeth Tandy, wife of Mr. Harry G. Tandy, and Dr. James Segenfelter, who were with him during his last hours.

A nephew, Hon. Charles Reed, and niece, Mrs. Mary Morgan, are his only near relatives living, his brothers and sisters having died many years ago.

He was a man who accomplished a great deal with very little ostentation. He left a comfortable home and had always been a good neighbor. He was one of the few remaining citizens who had grown up with the city and with one or two exceptions had lived here longer than any other man.

He was a member of the Knights of Honor. The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from Grace church, services by Rev. John W. Sykes, and interment at Oak Grove.

The bell was rung by Henry Orme, D. L. Sanders, Stewart Dick, W. H. Miller, and the organ and Sam H. H. H.

Mr. J. J. Adams, aged 38, died yesterday at his home, 119 Adams street, from complications of pneumonia, after an illness of several days. He had been a member of the city hospital for several weeks. He was a son of the late Capt. Murray, and a brother of Officer Tom Murray, of the police department. He leaves several other brothers and sisters.

The funeral of the late J. J. Adams, who died at the city hospital Saturday from the effects of a fall received about January 15, will take place Wednesday afternoon from the Third street M. E. church, burial at Oak Grove.

Mrs. F. N. Gardner, who left Saturday for Huntington, W. Va., on account of the illness of her brother from pneumonia, reached there too late, as he died about the time she started.

HICKS ON PLANETS

Mr. Word and W. H. H. Hicks speaks of the planets and Venus will be a morning star during the early days of February when on or about February 25th then Mercury comes up and keeps Venus company. On the 25th of February Jupiter and Mars in conjunction appear as evening stars and Saturn and Mercury as morning stars and about 11 p. m. on that date these stars or planets and the earth will all be in conjunction and this somewhat remarkable fact cannot be expected to happen more than once in a century, and the coincidence should be observed by our scholars, teachers and those interested in such matters. If there is one hour above another during the year when the sun and the planets will have a combined effect on the earth it should be about 11 o'clock on the night of February 25th. Whether or not this abnormal attraction will make the little earth out up, Mr. Hicks cannot definitely say but he thinks under such unusual strain it will necessarily incite the magnetic and electric elements of our globe in a degree that will be felt in storms and seismic perturbations. In fact, from now until the middle of March the heavens will be an attractive and interesting study for those astronomically inclined as Venus and Saturn pass each other about March 7th. Perhaps the planetary movements affect mankind also which may account for much crime, etc.

KENTUCKY'S LATEST.

Way down in old Kentucky A legislator seeks To pass a brainy measure that With wisdom fairly reeks He'd have the statesmen fix it So every mother's son Would have to get a license if He wished to tote a gun.

Themoney in this manner Obtained would, by his rules, Be given to the state, to help To run the public schools. This fund, you see—now, isn't This method just too cute?— Would simply go to teach the young Idea how to shoot!

A riot at Paducah, A scrap at Louisville, A colonel slain at Lexington Or Frankfort-on-the-kill: A shooting scrape at Newport Would simply go to place The firing generation on A firmer mental base.

Oh, Solomonie solon! Why can't all statesmen thus Afford us wisdom of this sort? The real "he ultra" Why can't we all arrange it To settle scores in red? That backs may come When bullets hum, And learning follow lead?

A committee left Louisville for Washington, where its members will appear before the House Committee on Military Affairs in the interest of the proposed army headquarters at West Point.

GROUND HOG DUE

He Will Appear Tomorrow, According to Past Customs.

Whether Winter Ends Or Not Is Believed By Many to Depend.

CANDLEMAS DAY NOW HERE

Tomorrow is "Ground Hog Day," and according to the belief of many, whether or not winter ends depends on what the ground hog sees upon his appearance on the scene tomorrow.

If he sees his shadow, according to popular belief, he will go back and remain for six weeks. If he does not, he will stay out and get busy preparing for summer.

Of course there is nothing to these beliefs, but they always serve to encourage or alarm the credulous or superstitious, and are interesting because of their having been with us so long, if for no other reason.

Candlemas day, February 2, is familiar to many Americans as a religious festival, but to those in whose church it is not celebrated it remains unknown, or known chiefly through two scraps of antiquated weather prophecy, neither of which would be likely to receive the endorsement of Old Probabilities. One of these asserts that on that day the hedgehog—or, in our Yankee version, the woodchuck, comes out of his hole to see if he can see his shadow; if he can, he goes back again to sleep; if he cannot, spring is near, and it is time to wake up and issue forth. The same idea is embodied in the other:

If Candlemas day be fair and bright, Winter will take another flight; If Candlemas day be foul and rain, Winter is gone and won't come again.

Yet beside its significance as a date in religious history and a turning point in the seasons, Candlemas in the old time had other and more domestic associations, some of them of a very pleasing kind.

It was customary in some regions to observe it by the serving of candle cakes, little round or heart shaped cakes, frosted and sprinkled over with sprigs of angelica or sugared rose leaves, and with a little candle in the center of each. Or, instead of these, a single large cake set round with many candles, like a great birthday cake, held the place of honor on the table. In either case there was an indoor procession; each member of the family bore a lighted taper, and they made the round of the house, sometimes singing as they moved, visited every room "to bring luck and drive the shadows out," and concluded their march in the dining room or kitchen, where the candle cakes and a special kind of hot spiced posset were served to the participants.

Always an abundant illumination was enjoined, and no one who could afford candles grudged them on that day, if he desired his household to be fortunate. Still another quaint old rhyme explains why:

Kindle ye candles at Candlemas, for soe many candles yst shine From Candlemas daye to Chaddemas, will see many joyes bee thine.

GAVE SKIN.

TO RESTORE BEAUTY OF AN IROQUOIS SUFFERER.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—Miss Edna S. Hunter, seventeen years old, one of the last to escape from the top gallery of the Iroquois Theater on the afternoon of the horror, was the subject of a skin-grafting operation.

Burnt places on the top of her scalp, her right ear, the right side of her neck and beneath her chin were supplied with several square inches of skin taken from the arms of volunteers, one was her brother.

One month's treatment, preparation and consultation among those from whom the skin was grafted preceded the operation. As soon as the plan became known friends of the Hunter family began offering their services.

Cured of Backache.

Member of the Business Men's League and one of the best known business men in St. Louis, Mo. Read what Mr. Wand has to say about Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure:

"I know what it is to be afflicted with backache and I sympathize with fellow sufferers. After swallowing various and frequent nauseating doses of this and that prescription I decided that if Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure could not rid me of those backaches it at least would not do me any harm and I procured a bottle.

"Now the first bottle didn't stop those wearing backaches, but it did afford me great relief. The second bottle, however, did effectually put a stop to those racking backaches. Occasionally they returned when strenuous business affairs exhausted the physical forces, but a dose or two of Dr. Fenner's Cure gave instant relief.

now silent as a mouse, drinking in the other's words with parted lips and sparkling eyes. First he showed her the letter Francois had brought him.
Unmarked by postal indications, the missive had evidently been entrusted to a private messenger of the governor whose seal it bore. Dated about three years previously, it was written in a somewhat illegible but not unrecognizable scrawl, the duke's own handwriting.

"I send you, my dear marquis," began the duke, "a copy of the secret report of the military tribunal appointed to investigate the charges against your kinsman, Lieutenant Saint-Prosper, and regret the finding of the court should have been one of guilty of treason."

"Saint-Prosper and I—of Kader met near the tomb of a marabout. From him the French officer received a famously ruby which he thrust beneath his zaboot, the first free of their compact.
That night, when the town lay sleeping, a turbulent host armed with yataghans stole through the flowering caucuses.
Sesame! The gate opened to them;
they swarmed within. The soldiers, surprised, could render little resistance. The ruthless invaders cut them down while they were sleeping or before they could sound the alarm.
The bravest blood of France flowed lavishly in the face of the treacherous onslaught—blood of men who had been his fastest friends, among whom he had been so popular for his dauntless courage and devil-may-care tenacity.
But a period, fearfully brief, and the beloved tricolor was trampled in the dust. The barbarian flag of the emir floated in its place.

"All these particulars and the part Saint-Prosper played in the terrible drama Abdel-Kader, who is now our prisoner, has himself confessed. The necessity for secrecy you, my dear marquis, will appreciate. The publicity of the affair now would work incalculable injury to the nation. It is imperative to preserve the army from the taint of scandal. The nation hangs on a thread. God knows there is iniquity abroad. I, who have labored for the honor of France and planted her flag in distant lands, look for defeat not through want of bravery, but from internal causes. A matter like this might lead to a popular uprising against the army. Therefore the king wills it shall be buried by his faithful servants."

As Mauville proceeded Susan remained motionless, but when he concluded she leaned back with a pleased smile.

"Well?" he said finally.

"How pliantly wicked he is!" she exclaimed.

"Piquantly, indeed!" repeated the land baron.

"And he carries it without a twinge!
What a petrified conscience! That accounts for his unwillingness to talk about Africa," went on Susan. "Soldiers as a rule, you know, like to tell all about their sanguinary exploits.
But the tented field was a forbidden topic with him. And once when I asked him about Algiers he was almost rodey evasive."

"He probably lives in constant fear his secret will become known," said Mauville thoughtfully. "As a matter of fact, the law provides that no person is to be indicted for treason unless within three years after the offense.
The tribunal did not return an indictment. The three years have just expired. Did he come to America to make sure of these three years?"

But Susan's thoughts had flitted to another feature of the story.

"How strange my marquis should be connected with the case! What an old compliment monger he was! He vowed he was deeply smitten with me."

"And then went home and took to his bed!" added Mauville grimly.

"You wretch!" said the young woman playfully. "So that is the reason the dear old molly coddle did not take me to any of the gay suppers he promised?
Is it not strange Saint-Prosper has not met him?"

"You forget the marquis has been confined to the room since his brief, but disastrous, courtship of you. His infatuation seems to have brought him to the verge of dissolution."

"Was it not worth the price?" she retorted, rising. "But I see my sister and Adonis are going, so I must be off too.
So glad to have met you!"

"You are no longer angry with me?"

"No; you are very nice," she said.

"And you have forgiven me?"

"Need you ask?" pressing her hand.

"Good evening, Mistress Susan!"

"Good evening. Oh, by the way, I have an appointment with Constance to rehearse a little scene together this evening. Would you mind loaning me that letter?"

"With pleasure; but remember your promise."

"Promise!" repeated the young woman.

"Not to tell."

"Oh, of course," said Susan.

"But if you shouldn't?"

"Then?"

"Then you might say the marquis your friend and admirer, gave you the letter. It would, perhaps, be easier for you to account for it than for me."

Susan fairly danced as she flew toward the St. Charles and burst into Constance's room, brimful of news and importance. She remained there for some time, and when she left it was noteworthy her spirits were still high.

CHAPTER XXIII.

A VERSATILE dramatic poet in grim Destiny, making with equal facility tragedy, farce, burlesque, mask or mystery.
The world is his inn, and like the wandering master of interludes, he sets up his stage in the courtyard beneath the windows of mortals, takes out his figures and evokes charming comedy, ending melodramas, spirited farces and moving diversions.
But it is in tragedy his constructive ability is especially apparent, and his characters, tripping along unnoticed in the sunny byways, are suddenly confronted by the terrifying mask and realize life is not all pleasant smiling and that the Greek philosophy of resignation is nature's law, preserving the unities. When the time comes the master of events, adjusting their prescribed lines, reaches by stern obligation the avoidless conclusion.

Consenting to law, but his own will,
the Marquis de Ligne had lived his though he were the autocrat of fate.
self instead of one of its servants, and therefore was surprised when the sensible playwright prepared the inex-pected denouement. In pursuance of this end, it was decreed by the imperious and incontrovertible dramatist of the human family that this crabbled,

"Impossible!" he murmured.

Vicious, antiquated marionette should wend his way to the St. Charles on a particular evening. Since the day at the races the eccentric nobleman had been ill and confined to his room, but now he was beginning to hobble around, and immediately with returning strength, sought diversion.

"Francois!" he said, "what is there at the theater tonight?"

"Comedie opera, my lord."

"The marquis made grimace. "Com-edie opera outside of Paris!" he exclaimed, with a shrug of his shoulders.

"A new actress, my lord, her debut at the St. Charles."

"Let it be the debut, then! Perhaps she will fail, and that will amuse me."

"Yes, my lord."

"And, by the way, Francois, did you see anything of a large envelope, a buff colored envelope, I thought I left in my secretary?"

"No, my lord. But Francois became just a shade pale."

"It is strange," said the marquis half to himself, "what would have become of it. I destroyed other papers, but not that. You are sure, Francois, you do not steal?"

"By this time the servant's knees began to tremble, and had the marquis eyesight been better he could not have failed to detect the other's agitation.
But the valet assumed a bold front as he asked:

"Why should I have stolen it?"

"True, why?" exclaimed the marquis.
"It would be no service to you. No;
you didn't take it. I believe you honest in this case."

"Thank you, my lord."

"After all, what does it matter?" muttered the nobleman to himself.
"What's in a good name today, with traitors within and traitors without?"

"The love's labor lost to have protected it. We're fostered a military nest of traitors. The scorpions will be faithful to nothing but their own ends.
They'll bite for any master."

Recalled to his purpose of attending the play by Francois' bringing from the wardrobe sundry articles of attire, the marquis underwent an elaborate toilet, recovering his good humor as this complicated operation proceeded.
Indeed by the time it had reached a trunk and the valet had set the marquis before a mirror, the latter had forgotten his dissatisfaction at the government in his pleasure with himself.

IN THE CONTESTS

The voting in The Sun's World's Fair contests Saturday was something wonderful as is shown by the large number of votes some of the entries have today.

These contests are being run by nearly every newspaper in the country now but none of them has created the interest The Sun's have. There remain yet three months of the contests and from past records of such contests the entries should not think a contest decided until the last vote is cast.

Advance subscriptions today have nearly as much value as they did in January, one month 120, six months 825 and one year 1,650 votes and that candidate is wise who remembers "there's many a slip between the cup and the lip."

SHE DIED ALONE

Aged Colored Woman Found Dead Today.

Had Been Ill For Quite Awhile—Inquest to Be Held.

Susan Dixon, an aged negro woman of near Eighth and Washington streets, was this morning found dead in her bed, having evidently died of neglect more than anything else.

The woman was about 70 years of age and is reported to have been ill for several weeks. The charitable inclined colored neighbors and several colored church workers had been helping the woman, but of late it seems she grew worse. No one reported the case to the police and the woman died probably from neglect and the extreme cold.

Coroner Peal investigated the case this morning and learned a small girl had taken the woman supper last night and built a small fire. When the girl returned this morning the fire had died out and the woman was lying on the bed all drawn up as if she died in agony. The girl notified neighbors, who called the coroner.

Some advance the idea that she died of extreme cold and Coroner Peal will hold an inquest this afternoon. It is said the deceased carried a small amount of life insurance. The remains have been turned over to Undertaker Andy Watkins who will bury them tomorrow afternoon.

NO APPOINTMENTS

MAYOR YEISER DECLINES TO STATE WHO WILL BE ON BOARD.

Mayor Yeiser stated today that he might make his appointments as members of the board of public works Thursday, but would not do so today or tonight. As his appointments have to be confirmed only by the aldermen, he will probably not report them to the council.

In regard to the statement that Messrs. E. P. Noble, S. A. Fowler and John Rinealeff would be the lucky men, Mayor Yeiser said he had never so stated, nor authorized the report. He still declines to make any announcement but it is said that he has never consulted at least one of the above gentlemen about the appointment.

Mr. Fowler, according to an intimate friend, would not serve if appointed, as he would have to resign as wharfmaster, and his private business requires all his time.

Edward Cash is under arrest in Bloomington, Ill., charged with killing William Sewell, of Pulaski county, Ky.
